approaches to projects

Integrity

We earn the trust of our clients, teammates, and communities by consistently showing concern for their business and their interests.

Performance

We work with our client's best interests in mind to deliver them a project that adds value to their business while discovering savings along the way.

Family & Community

We value relationships based on trust, honesty, respect, and compassion. We strive to be good citizens of our communities and those of our clients. This approach promotes an open and collaborative project environment.

We are PROBLEM SOLVERS.

Our clients count on us to think creatively and provide project solutions in an industry that is constantly evolving.

We provide project and construction execution expertise to our clients throughout the entire program life cycle, from concept through operations.

IPI's team members have strong backgrounds in strategic and detailed planning and construction of complex industrial projects, domestically and internationally. Our extensive resource base of professionals with this comprehensive experience makes IPI the leader in full-service project delivery.
